Suburban Intelligence

Men dance with their wives and other surveillance checks out.
At parties each stays in a corner of the other's eye. The foraging day, though, brings dangers from predators the folklore has glossed over bawdy centuries. "Social Scientists" suck around strip malls and lawyers lick whitewalls. These veterans knowing the way hard-bitten guides sense the wind's body.